When we talk about the office of the future, one of the concepts we discuss is IEQ, or indoor environmental quality. Over the past few decades TROX has gained much experience in office buildings and cooperated with the most creative and best engineers and architects to develop bespoke ventilation and air conditioning strategies that ensure a perfect climate in each office. These development efforts have resulted in sustainable solutions that increase the well-being of people working in offices.

For an overview of these solutions please have a look at the new TROX brochure 'Fresh air for offices - Innovative room air strategies create ideal working conditions'.
